SALLY ON LOVE

(Editor's Note: Letitia Love, who writes our love-lorn column, came down with measles this week. We asked Sally to do her column and here is what happened. After this, we'll do it ourselves.)

"I am a bachelor, 69 years old, but still quite spry, and my hair is curly around the edges. I have been in love with Ann Sothern for a long time. Do you think she would look at me?"

I think it would be better if you would look at her, instead. Go to the Daly City Theatre tomorrow, enjoy the picture and try to forget your heavy burden. Broken hearts beat in the best of us.

"Every night I have the same dream three times. I think that I am standing on top of my typewriter when suddenly I see a pink crocodile coming toward me. Just as he is about to reach me, I turn into a bottle of glue and wake up. What do you think this means?"

I think it means that you had better change your brand of pie. Flaky, light and tender, pie from the Geneva Bakery is guaranteed to be digestible and will never make you dream of pink crocodiles.

"My husband has been upset and irritable lately. He says he no longer loves me. He met an attractive widow on one of his recent business trips and now he doesn't even shave for breakfast. What shall I do? I give him pink lemonade and marshmallow salad every evening for dinner and he is still grumpy."

There is only one weapon, Mrs. K., with which a wife can fight attractive widow women. That is a good, thick porterhouse steak from Farmer's Meat company. Try this and I'm sure you'll have him shaving again for breakfast in no time.

"I have never written a letter like this before but things have reached the stage where our home is slowly splitting up. It is about my mother-in-law. She shrieks every time the radio is turned on. This is slowly ruining the lives of me and my wife and my children. What do you advise?"

Do not blame that nice old mother-in-law of yours. Probably that radio you have is enough to drive anyone frantic. Better see Byrne at once. This will stop the shrieking of both your radio and your mother-in-law.

"Two months ago I married a young man who said he loved me. But now every morning he goes off to work without even kissing me good-bye. What can I do? He stops right in the middle of his fried egg, looks at me with hatred in his eye, and then slams the door."

No wonder he stops right in the middle of his fried egg. Even a bride should know enough to buy eggs from Robertson's Egg store, where they are sure to be fresh.

"My butler has been with us for several years and is absolutely reliable—except that he has one serious fault. Whenever I have a dinner party, he spills hot coffee down the backs of the guests. What would you advise?"

This is a very simple problem, Mrs. Z., with a very simple solution. Just send your guests to the Beeson Cleaners.

"A terrible fear is clutching at my heart. My bones ache, my step is limp and I kick the cat. I think I am dying of some dreadful and unknown disease. What shall I do?"

Go as fast as you can to Edward's Drug store and buy some Epsom salts for a hot bath. It will make you feel like a new man. If there is still any lingering ache or pain, apply Rexall penetrating liniment.

"I have been going with a young man for the last several months. I think that he loves me, although he has never said so, but he occasionally gives me presents of pineapple frappers which we eat in the living room. Do you think he loves me?"

I think he loves pineapple frappers. If I were you I would get a job selling pineapple frappers at Waxman's Bakery.

"What is the correct wine to serve with chicken dinner?"

Sally doesn't know. Go down to Vireno's Market. He will select the correct wine for the occasion from his famous cellar.

"I am very shy and a jitterbug, but too bashful to ask a girl to a dance. What can I do?"

Buy a ticket to the Club Metropolis Leap Year dance Saturday night. You will have the time of your life.

"I stay home and try to make our home attractive. I see that ashes are never spilled on the rug, that the living room cushions are never mussed up and that no one leaves a paper on the floor. And yet something is wrong. My husband doesn't seem to appreciate all the slaving I do for him."

If you really want to make your home attractive, let H. H. Smith help you build a playroom for your husband where he can do what he ~~likes~~—please. It will cost you very little and may mend your broken lives.

"My husband is bringing his boss home to dinner. I am a bride and don't know how to plan a meal. Do you think the boss will like me?"

Serve him a roast leg of lamb from Milo's Market, with tender new spinach, Nob Hill coffee and avocado salad. Even a bride knows that food is the way to a man's heart—even the boss's.

"I am very fond of hiking, but

New Ironing Pad Big Time Saver

There is something which will put to rest those Monday laundry blues—a new type of ironing board cover which tests have shown, reduces ironing time twenty to thirty percent. There is a scientific principle behind the novel pad. Experiments have proved that the first few strokes of an iron satisfactorily smooth the clothes, but that many more strokes are necessary to dry them, this job being made difficult by the moisture which in ironing is quick to saturate the old type of ironing pad. The ironer's new helper overcomes this condition which is what really has been lengthening ironing time.

Treated with a new synthetic coating which scientists call hexavalent, this new pad is waterproof, self-proof, stainproof and fire resistant. Moisture cannot collect in it. A special type of aluminum powder has been added to the hexavalent coating, giving the pad heat reflecting qualities which help further to reduce ironing time.

It is one of those budget items which give a housemaker service wholly out of proportion to its small cost.

George and Millie

(Editor's Note: Technical information for this series has been supplied by The New Process Laundry.)

Dear Folks:

We're still buried, literally, under tons of figures on the laundry business. Just as I get an omelet poured or my hair soaked up for a shampoo, George howls tearfully, "Millie, come quickly and help me check this column of numbers!"

What a mess! Now we're into the percentages. You know, 75.54 per cent of the housewives erroneously believe that it costs more to send clothes to the laundry than to do them at home. The average family with two and one-half children will do such and such. Now, as I say to George, who ever heard of a family with half a child? Or who would be one-hundredths of a housewife be?

But he just looks superior and says, "It takes a mind above the average to grasp the significance of even the simplest indexes and statistical graphs. Go away and don't bother me with your silly questions."

All this fuss and fury over graphs and charts! And what will it show? Why, it'll show just what everybody already knows—that any woman would prefer to have her clothes done at a laundry if she could be sure it wouldn't be too expensive nor too hard on the fabric. Anybody with half an ounce of sense, I always say, wouldn't have to my husband will never like with me. What can I do?"

SALLY'S COLUMN - SCOUTING THE SHOPS

Send him to Macy's shoe store where he can get a pair of shoes that will make him a pleasure. Asking for never kept anyone alive, Mrs. D.

"My boy friend always pours the drinks I mix him on the potted plants in the parlor when he visits me. How can I avoid this?" Westlake Market sells 5-Rite. Mix your drinks with that—then it will be "down the hatch" with him.

"I was once a healthy man but I lost all of my money on Wall Street. Do you think I could raise rabbits for a living?"

That all depends. Better get on the good side of the rabbits with special fancy alfalfa from Ball and Sons, only $1.50 a bush.

"My husband's second cousin from Alabama is visiting us. My husband says she is very particular. Can you tell me what to feed her?"

Give her Southern Fried chicken from R. Rottel's poultry store.

Their recipe are bound to please anyone's second cousin.

"My husband is always talking about Hedy. Lamar's beautiful hands. This hurts me very much. How can I make him forget Hedy's hands?"

Go to Lucia Bartlett's soap sale today and select a soap which will prevent disfiguring hands. Then he will throw Hedy to the winds.

"My boy friend always wants to take me out—he won't stay home and sit in front of the parlor fire and read poetry with me."

What can I do about this?"

Get a box of Dialla coal from Out State Market. Its cheerful glow will make him change his mind— even with the poetry.

"My husband won't take me to parties because he says his shirt collars choke him. Do you think I should get a divorce?"

He should get a divorce. A wife who doesn't send shirts to the New Process Laundry, where they're sure not to be shrunk, doesn't deserve any parties, Mrs. E.

Children think TOAST ANIMALS

are fun to eat with SOUP

says Dorothy Craig

COOKIES cutters can fashion more things than cookies. Try cutting animal shapes out of bread with them, to be toasted and served with soup.

Little Johnny will taste the best of vegetable soup with more than usual vim when he finds a toasted toast marshmallow. The trick is to toast marshmallows then slip them on a string and under the broiler to make them hot with soup! (Dorothy Craig writes for the children's section of the paper. Her toast marshmallows are a delicious discovery. Try it with your vegetable soup.)

And speaking of soups—some soups are a big help in getting the day's quota of milk into a child's diet. To encourage your appetite, tomato or celery soup just add milk instead of the usual water. Heat, but do not boil. You can add milk, also, to such soups as chicken, vegetable and Scotch broth, but in that case make it one-half milk and one-half water, using the soup as a measure.

Personal Perfume for Dreamers

PHIL STEWART, the CBS "Dealer in Dreams," left, has arranged to provide his listeners with personalized perfumes, especially designed to fit their names. Above is shown the noted European perfumer, Jules Marton, in his new Hollywood laboratory, where he has perfected hundreds of individual blends designed to enhance feminine qualities which are characteristic of different girls' names. This blend matches "Margaret." Phil Stewart broadcasts the "Dealer in Dreams" program Mondays through Fridays, from 5:15 to 5:30 p. m., over Columbia stations of the Pacific coast.

The Danube river is formed by the junction of three smaller streams in the Black Forest of central Europe.

Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Witt, 6053 Mission street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Monday evening, at a dinner party in one of San Francisco's famous restaurants. Mr. and Mrs. Witt are parents of Bob Witt, who is the genial host at Wit's End night club.

Among the dinner party guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pady, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo George, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vargas and Mr. and Mrs. John Brugger.

Six Weeks Song
When the carnival comes to Nice on the French Riviera, there is a charming custom of launching a new song whose melody is played daily by every orchestra and street band until everyone is whistling or humming it. When King Carnival dies, the song dies too, and the following season another takes its place.

Skeeter Cheater
After four years of experimenting, five scientists at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., have developed an insect repellent which they claim will protect the most susceptible skin from mosquito bites, says the Country Home magazine. One of the scientists tested the new product in a marsh, smearing half of his body with the product and leaving the other half untreated. He was bitten more than 5,000 times on the untreated skin, while insects carefully avoided the treated portion.

Leap Year Dance Saturday Night

Making their initial bow to the public, Club Metropol will sponsor a Leap Year dance, Saturday evening, at Colombo hall, Colma. Bill Catalando and his swingsters will furnish music in the modern manner for what promises to be an unusual event.

"Club Metropol intends to stage one of the best dances this community has seen," said Dick Ragni, president of the group.

Nick Gust, master of ceremonies, and Ray Ming, publicity director, added their own cordial invitations to the public to attend.

War Casualties Listed

First casualties of the next war were the hens of Joe Mikulich, and he wants to know what the government is going to do in the way of reparations. While limbering up for Armageddon, it and when it comes, the field artillery of the California National Guard planted an explosive shell in Joe's chicken coop near San Pablo. There was heavy loss of life among the feathered noncombatants, and the survivors, suffering from shell shock, have not laid an egg since.

There's something FISH-y about this Dish

says Dorothy Graig

FATHER loved to fish. The only hitch to his absolute enjoyment of the sport was mother. When he tried grandly to hand her the result of his prowess she would eye it coldly and say, "The only fish I accept are cleaned fish, ready to cook."

This fish is stuffed, baked, garnished with lemon peel curls and water-cress and served with hot tomato sauce

On that point she was adamant. So the end of the trip showed dad kneeling ingloriously on the rock ribbed shore of Maine cleaning fish to the raucous screams of down swooping sea gulls.

Nothing, however, ever tasted better than those fresh caught fish, baked or fried to a sizzling savory brown. Today with modern refrigeration, quick frosting and rapid transportation, fish, fresh and sweet, are available everywhere. They are an inexpensive food, too, and high in food value.

A most delicious way to cook fish is baked and stuffed. For this select fish around three to five pounds in weight. Then fill dressing for the inside of the fish, hot tomato sauce for the outside—perfect!

Baked Stuffed Fish with Dill Dressing, Hot Tomato Sauce

Dill Dressing:
3 cups soft bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons onion, minced
1/4 cup melted butter
4 tablespoons dill pickles, chopped
2 tablespoons parsley, chopped

Mix the bread crumbs with seasoning and onion; add better slowly, and toss dressing with a fork to mix. Then add the chopped dill pickle and parsley.

Baked Stuffed Fish:

3-5 pound fish
Salt and pepper

Rub the inside of the fish with salt and sprinkle with pepper. Fill with Dill Dressing and sew edges of fish together. Place the fish in a well-greased baking pan or on greased heavy paper in a shallow pan. Sprinkle salt on the outside of the fish and bake with butter or pork fat. If the fish is lean, lay strips of bacon or salt pork over the fish or baste every 10 minutes while in the oven. Bake in a moderately hot (375-400 degrees F.) oven allowing 10-12 minutes per pound. If the oven is opened to baste fish more time should be allowed for baking.

Hot Tomato Sauce:

1 can condensed tomato soup
Heat the tomato soup just as it comes from the can and serve 2-4 tablespoons of sauce over each portion of fish. Serves 6-7.

Poached fish with oyster-mushroom sauce is another favorite at our house:

Poached Fillet of Flounder with Oyster-Mushroom Sauce

Poached Fillet of Flounder:

1 1/2 pounds fillet of flounder
1 1/2 quarts of water
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine water, salt and lemon juice and bring to boiling point. Cover the fish and simmer until tender and it separates from the bone. Allow 10-20 minutes according to thickness. Drain and serve on a hot platter with an oyster-mushroom sauce. Serves 5-6.

Oyster-Mushroom Sauce:

1 tablespoon butter
8 oysters with liquor
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup milk

Put the oysters (medium or large) in six or eight pieces and cook in the melted hot butter until the edges curl. Then add oyster liquor, cream of mushroom soup and milk. Mix thoroughly and heat. Pour this sauce over the poached "Fillets of Flounder"

New Poultry Firm Opening Saturday

Another step forward in the growth of the Daly City-Colma business district will be made, Saturday, when the F. Bottini company opens its doors. The new business will feature a complete line of live and dressed poultry.

Counters and fixtures were installed this week, following extensive renovation of the large store building, located at 7339 Mission street, Colma.

Next President?

Political circles were stunned at the announcement that dynamic, silver-tongued Grace Allen has determined to make herself the next occupant of the White House. "I've got plenty of hats," said Miss Allen, "so I may as well throw one of them into the ring. And besides, the White House is such a cute place to live."

Pollie Crime

There's nothing like an apology to soothe an injury—except possibly this one. Rubin Harvey was accosted by a stranger on a Little Rock, Ark., street who slashed him several times with a knife. Suddenly the assailant stepped back in apologetic surprise, remarked, "Excuse me, I thought you were someone else."

Military Buttons

One of the greatest collections of military buttons is owned by Robert S. Duncan of Toronto, Canada. He has 2,000 army buttons which have come from every section of the British empire and from 17 other countries. They are divided into 31 groups mounted on corrugated boards covered with paper.

Sir Harry Lauder

Most of the tourists who come to Hamilton, near Glasgow, come to see the place where Sir Harry Lauder worked as a pit-boy in a mine. No one since the days of Sir Walter Scott has made Scotland better known or better loved.

Injured Beauty

An injured leg and a bruised face sent Barbara Luddy, star of the "First Nighter" radio dramas to the hospital following an accident in which her car was demolished. But the show must go on, so Barbara leaves her bed on Friday nights to do her broadcast at the CBS studio with the injured leg propped up on a chair.

make a national survey to find out that women would like a little more leisure for the more important things of life.

I could rave for a year and George wouldn't o. k. sending our things to the laundry, BUT one or two silly old graphs will have him telling me to start the service immediately. He'll probably even say he doesn't see why I didn't think of sending the things to the laundry ages ago. Men!

I guess I shouldn't be so hard on him. After all, I should care what convinces him of such an obvious fact!

Love,
Millie.

P. S. I really do think I'm winning this battle, even if it's the long hard way.

Education of Kindergarten

Maria Montessori, the Italian educator, studied at the University of Rome and graduated in medicine in 1906, being the first woman in Italy to do so. She then took up the subject of educating defective children. From the experience thus acquired, she came to the conclusion that similar methods might be applied to normal children of a lower age, and after a series of experiments on a small scale she extended them to a large number of children in private and public nursery schools in Rome. Her ideas on education have been set forth in several books which have been widely translated.

Cottontail Moths

The cottontail moths are a dangerously poisonous snake generally of dark chestnut-brown with some darker barring and with yellowish-white stripes on the head and throat. The common name of this snake refers to the white lining of the mouth, which it is said to display before biting. Cottontails may attain a length of four feet. They are not aggressive and most cases of snake bite in which they are involved are due to the reptiles being stepped on.

Blossom To Bean To Pie: Here's A Coffee Saga!

A fragrant blossom for a few days; a bean for a few months; a pie for a few minutes—here's a coffee story with a happy ending!

THE time is right for this coffee pie, so borrow the flavor from the pot and let the refrigerator do the work. You don't need the oven, but you do need the recipe which is given here. Be sure to serve it with a big, brimming cup of coffee!

Coffee Sponge Pie
3 tbsps. butter
16 graham crackers
1 tbsps. gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 eggs
1 1/2 tbsps. confectioner's sugar
Roll graham crackers and combine with melted butter; press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Cool. Sprinkle gelatin on top cold water in a bowl and dissolve over hot water. Beat egg yolks; add 1/4 the sugar, coffee and salt. Cook in double boiler until thickened. Add dissolved gelatin and chill until just beginning to thicken; add lemon juice and vanilla. Fold in egg whites stiffly beaten with remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Pour into lined pie pan and place in refrigerator for several hours. To serve top with whipped cream, sweetened with confectioner's sugar. Serves 6 to 8.

Strawberry Grapes

At Canossa in Yugoslavia, one of the chief delicacies is the "strawberry grape," a grape very like our Concord grape, with a strawberry flavor.

First Radio Broadcast

The first regular radio broadcasting in the United States was from a transmitter at the home of Mr. Frank Conrad at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Glass-Conserving American

One person in every 64 bought a pair of sun glasses last year, reports the newly organized Sun Glass Institute, whose members produced 20,000,000 pairs in 1939.

In the Fog

There are more hours of fog per year, on the average, at Moose Peak, Maine, than at any other place where there is a U. S. light-house service station: 1,639 hours.

DRAMATIC "ALLEGHENY UPRISING" PICTURES EARLY COLONIAL REVOLT

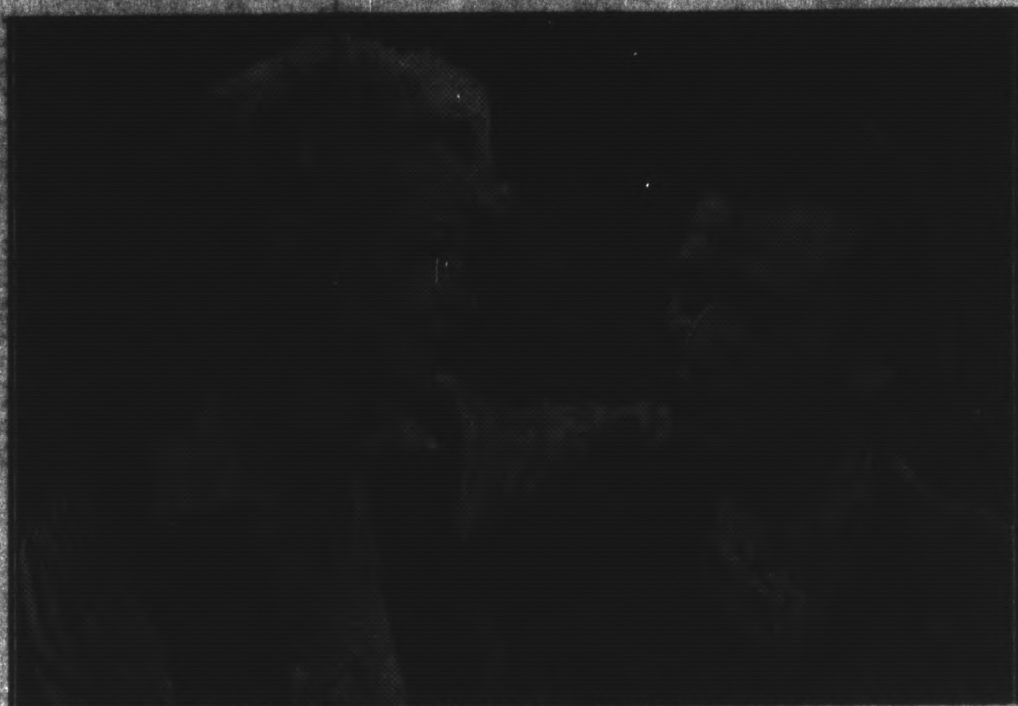

An all but forgotten incident in American history, which contains more sheer drama, color and exciting action than one would at first imagine, is pictured by RKO Radio in "Allegheny Uprising," now playing on the screen at the Daily City theatre. Claire Trevor and John Wayne, who recently soared to fame in "Stagecoach," head a distinguished cast.

The story revolves around the uprising of the Pennsylvania colonists against the British crown, an event which was the forerunner of the Revolution more than a decade later. When haughty army officials ignored the pleas of desperate settlers to halt dishonest traders from supplying savage Indians with arms which were being used in bloody frontier raids, the colonists were driven into open revolt.

James Smith, played by John Wayne, was elected to be leader of the "insurrection." His escapades and his ingenuity in capturing two forts with mere handfuls of men is a tribute to the type of true American courage that made this country a free and independent state.

Counterpointing the vivid, absorbing action of the plot is the romance between Wayne and Jamie McDougall, impetuous daughter of a tavern keeper. Claire Trevor plays this role and her efforts to "get her man" before the Indians or British "get" him provides many of the lighter moments of the story.

Companion feature on the new bill is "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," starring Ann Southern and Lewis Stone.
